I talked about my broadcasting experience, which started with the BBC podcast series 'Hooked: The Unexpected Addicts'.

Originally commissioned for five episodes it was such a ratings success that the BBC kept on extending it.

The final episode was broadcast at the end of season 2 and 23 episodes.

It won three major broadcasting awards as well!

The BBC were very clever in using video clips of the recordings for promotion on social media which increased the audience.

An example of me is below and the main website underneath it.
